Newton Has Many Checks.

Q.—You know he wrote?

Q.—You know he wrote?

A.—When we left here we left between $600 and $1,000 worth of checks in Newton's hands to be placed for collection. We didn't have any returns from them. We told Newton that we ither wanted the checks or the money on them back, and that we would write to him later. We waited what we thought would be long enought, and didn't hear anything from Newton, and Bell wrote Newton a letter and he received no answer to that. We then thought it over and Bell decided to write Chief Sheets a letter and hav him see Newton and have him send hav him seen Newton and have him send cided to write thief Sheets a letter and hav him see Newton and have him send have him send the money back, but didn't hear from Q.—From whom did you take these We had won them in the game from different people.

Q.—Different people? Yes, sir. Now when you were up in this house the Antiers—was the game explained to you there, how and what was played?

A—It wasn't explained. I saw the hands

-You saw the hands?

A.-Yes, sir.
O.-And that was the same as told by O'Brien was played?

The "Big Mit" Game.

A.-Yes, sir; it was the "big mit"; that was all I know. It is known by that name. I know it is played that way. Everybody plays it that way.

Q.-Just show that game as played at that time. Christensen-I object, as it has not been shown he knows. Mr. Hanson-He says he saw the hand. Mr. Hanson-Tyou can show the hands that were laying there.
Mr. Hanson-That is what I want.
Q.-Just show the hands?
A.-There is the way the hands lay (indicating).

Q.-Which did the McWhirters have? This one over here.
Which hand did Donaldson have?
Donaldson had this one.
This is what you call stud poker? Q.-That is three aces as against four ays. Now from that hand in poker I posse Donaldson would win?

Q.-Did you know who Donaldson preended to be, if anybody?

A-I did not know.

Q-You did not know?

Q.-Did you know who! Jack O'Brien etended to be, if anybody?

A.—I think he introduced himself to me as a mining expert.

Q.-Did Larry O'Brien say anything during this time?
A.-Yes, sir.
Q.-What was it? A.-When we were in the room, do you

Larry O'Brien Was Sorry.

Q.—Yes A.—He said he was very sorry it came up. He knew we would be punished by imprisonment in jail. He knew we would get into trouble over it, and he was awfully sorry it came up. He gave me a check for $1,000. Q .- You spoke of having drafts on dif-

Q.-Just explain how you used them. A.-We gave the O'Briens several -To use in their games?

-Yes, sir. -When was this you gave this to the O'Briens?

A.—A few days after we went to work.

Q.—Show how you used these with anybody that came in during this time.

Do you remember any case?

A.—Yes, sir.

A.—Some of them I do.

Q.—Where you remained in a town, carrying on your business, you make that one of your specialties, don't you?

A.—I den't go to town more than I can possibly avoid.

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Do you know the party's name?

A.—I don't know his name.

Q.—It was during the time you have ven during August and September?

A.—During the second week we were

Q.—Where was this done?
A.—It was in one of the rooms of the saloon on West Temple.
Q.—Where you and Bell had your

A.-Yes, sir, Q.-Who brought him in? A.-Bell brought him in.

Victim From the Temple Grounds.

Q-Do you known where he was brought in from?
A.-From the temple grounds.
Q.-Then what occurred?
A.-We beat him out of $1.125.
Q.-In the game you and Bell were playing as illustrated here?

ing as illustrated here? Q.-Now then, just show how the drafts

Q.—Now then, just show how the drafts were used and the checks.

A.—Bell showed the certificate of deposit like this and suggested that newrite a letter addressed to the Montana National bank, enclosing a certificate asking the bank to forward this man's money to some little town in Montana. I forget the name of the town. The draft was placed in the envelope and addressed to the Montana National bank in Butte, Ment., and a stamp put on it and put in the tablet and switched, and Bell took out the envelope addressed to my-self.

Q.—Where did you get that envelope adressed to yourself?
A.—In the tablet. We kept it in that Q .- For that purpose?

A.—Yes, and exchanged with them. We just mailed a letter addressed to ourselves in this city and left the letter and draft in the tablet.

Q.—Then what occurred?

A.—Went to the mail box and mailed it and the man went on his way, and we haven't heard from him since.

Q.—Now, I show you a blank check. Did you ever use a scheme of that kind in connection with this conspiracy?

A.—Nothing like that.

Check Went to Newton.

Q.-Why did you turn the check over io Newton.

A—We had a friend, a saloon man here, whom he gave the check to, and the saloon man put the check in for collection for him.

Mr. Christengan, De you know that Mr. Christensen-De you know that

A.-Yes, sir.
Q.-Now, the time you talked with Mr.
Newton, making arrangement with Newton about the payment of money, was anything said about meeting Chief

A.—Bell wanted to meet him; he was afraid of Newton; afraid to trust him with the money. Newton told him he could not the chief would not do business with applied.

could not, the chief would not do business with anybody.
Q-During the conversation with Raleigh he said you boys were doing business when everyone else was out?
A-That was when Bell joined me at the bootblack stand, after he came out of the little shop over here. He said Sheets seemed to be very much pleased with what we were doing; had been getting two or three kicks a week from the O'Briens and hadn't heard anything from us; we seemed to be working right along.

Questions by Mr. Thurman.
Q.-How old are you. Mr. Parrent?
A.-Twenty-six.
Q.-Where were you born?
A.-Cleburne. Texas.
Q.-How long have you been engaged in this kind of business?
A.-About three years.
Q.-What places have you operated in lessides Salt Lake City?
A.-All over the United States and

A.—All over the United States and Canada—parts of Canada.
Q.—Do you mean that?
A.—In every state; all with the exception of four or five, Maine, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire.

A.—Nearly all of them. I would not say all of them. Those are about the only ones I haven't been in.

Q.—That has been your exclusive business for a livelihood during that time?

A.—Yes, sir w many times have you been ar-

Q.—Were you in prison at that time?
A.—For a few days.
Q.—Were you tried? A.—By the police court.

Q.—Did you commit the same offense at that time, or similar to the one with which you are charged now?

A.—Similar to it, yes, sir.

Q.—How long did you operate before that? -About four months A.-About four months.
Q.-Did you stand in with the police at Q.-Make a rough estimate if you can. Made $2,500 in Kansas City. A.—In the neighborhood of $2,500 or $3,000. Something like that.

Q.—That much yourself. Did you divide up with the authorities?
A.—Had $1,800 for my part after I left there, after I paid my fine.
Q.—Did you operate with others?
A.—Yes. sir.
Q.—Were you arrested again at any other place?
A.—Yes, sir.
Q.—Where?
A.—Dallas. Texas.

A.—Dallas, Texas, Q.—Was that for the same or simila A.-No. that was not for gambling.

What were you charged with?

Disturbing the peace.

Did you have to pay a fine? A.-Yes, sir. Q.-When were you arrested again, if

A .- I was arrested at Denver on this charge.
Q.-Well, when besides this?
Deny A .- I was arrested in Denver before

A.-For what? A.-Matching dollars with a fellow in Denver. Q.-Now, were you ever arrested again. A.—I was arrested at Denver and brought here after that.

Q.—Is that the only time?

A.—That I can recall just now, yes, sir, Q.—Have you ever been in the penitentian.

A.-No, sir. Q.-Were you ever in Salt Lake before

A .- Let's see-I was here last summer year ago. Q.—Last summer a year ago? Q.-What was your business at that

A .- Matching dollars. A.—Matching dollars.
Q.—Did you play cards?
A.—I didn't at that time, no. sir.
Q.—Did you know who was the chief of police at that time?
A.—I don't remember. I don't believe he was chief then.
Q.—Did you ever see him?
A.—I don't know that I saw the chief of police. I saw Mr. Sheets then.
Q.—You saw Mr. Sheets?
A.—He was at that time in Keith-

Q.—You saw Mr. Sheets?
A.—He was at that time in Keith-O'Brien's store.
Q.—You make it a business, do you not, to know municipal officers by sight when you see them?
A.—Some of them I do.

Kept Out of the Way.

Q.—You mean you don't go out? A.—Don't go out any more than I have

Q.—Generally hide up during the day—remain indoors somewhere?

A.—I remain in my room when I am Q.—Now, what day, according to your best recollection, did you come to Salt Lake City last summer; this last time?

A.—To the best of my recollection was the early part of August.

Q.—Can you give us anywhere near the date?
A.—I cannot, because I don't remember it. It was along in the early part of August. along between the 1st and 4th somewhere. Q.-When did you first see Newton and have a talk with him? About what time was that?

A.—Got in here one morning about $ o'clock, came straight up here and met Newton across from the Pabst, I think it was, and shook hands with him. Wasn't with him very long then.

Looks for No Reward.

Q.—Before coming to this, however, I want to ask you this question. What reward, or immunity, if any, do you receive, or expect or hope for, on account of your testitiony in this case?

A-1 don't hope for anything. I don't expect anything.

expect anything.
Q.—You don't hope for anything?
A.—I have hopes, of course; but don't expect anything; don't look for anything.
Q.—Well, you have hopes, don't you?
A.—I haven't any hope only the hope that I will live. That is all.
Q.—Don't you have a hope that you will have the case dismissed against you?
A.—No, sir, I don't have a hope of having it dismissed.

Q.—Don't you have that hope within ou, and isn't that the basis of your teshigh moral—on a moral plane? Is that why you are testifying—with a view now to uphold the law?

to uphold the law?

A.—I was asked these questions and I testified as near as I knew the truth.

Q.—I know. I am asking you if you are influenced in your testimony by a high moral idea of alding, assisting due administration of justice, or are you influenced by some other means?

A.—I don't thoroughly grasp your question. I am not influenced in any way, only I was put on the stand to tell the truth.

Q.—You were arrested, were you not? A.—Yes. sir. Q.—In Denver?

A.—Yes, slr.
Q.—You fled from this city to Denver, didn't you?
A.—Yes, slr. Q.—You went because of this offense? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.-You were caught? A.-Yes. sir. Q.-And brought back?

Q.—And orought back?
A.—Yes, sir.
Q.—Now, what do you expect for tesifying in the manner you have from he state, if anything?
A.—I don't except anything.

A.—I don't except anything.
Q.—You don't expect anything?
A.—No, sir.
Q.—You have a lawyer of your own?

-Yes, sir. -Why die you bring him with you?

A.—For my own interests.

Q.—What interest could you have to look after that could not be attended to by yourself in view of your testimony?

A.—That is what I brought him up here for; to find out.

Q.—Have you brought him here to see that you would get only what you are supposed to get when you turn state's evidence?

A.—I don't know what a man is sup-A.—I don't know what a man is sup-posed to get. This is the first time I have ever been on the witness stand in my life.

A.—All that I have ever heard about people turning state's evidence is simply this, as far as I know, and all that I know, I always heard that they got the worst of it. Q.—You hever heard of anybody turning state's evidence to convict someone else and they have their cases dismissed against them?

against them?

A.—I don't recall any.
Q.—You never heard of any such case as that in your life?

A.—I probably may have heard of it but don't recall it now.

Q.—When did you, first know you were going to be called on the stand as a witness?

A .- A few minutes before I came in

Q.—Had you ever told anybody you were willing to tell all there was about this matter?

A.—I have never told anybody I was willing to tell. Q.—I asked you had you ever told any-body before a few minutes before court opened this morning.

A.—Yes, sir.
Q. Who did you tell?
A.—My attorney.
Q.—Your attorney?
A.—I gave him the facts in this case on

A.—I gave him the facts in this case on my way up here on the train; the first chance I had to talk with him.

Q.—Now when did you have your first arrangement with Newton?

A.—The first arrangement I had with Newton was a year ago last summer when I was over here.

Q.—I mean this last business.

A.—I had an arrangement earlier in the summer when I was over here early in the spring; this last spring.

Another Arrangement With Newton.

Q.—Did you have an arrangement with Newton have before the last time?
A.—I met Newton over here.
Q.—Well, did you have an arrangement with him to do business?

A.—Didn't have any particular arrangement with him; no. He was a friend of Bell and of Bender Kid and Harry Wal-kind of business?

A.-Yes, sir.

Q.-Here before?

A.-Yes, sir.

Q.-Did Newton engineer the arrangement?

ment?

A.—No, sir; Harry Walters engineered the arrangement. There was no arrangement other than to have somebody to handle our checks for us that we won.

Q.—Do you remember seeing Mr. Sheets when you came in?

A.—Yee, sir,

Q.—In August?

A.—Yes, sir; I saw Mr. Sheets in August.

Q .- Where did you see him? Just o -Just around the streets here.

Q.—Did you see him frequently?
A.—Three or four times a week.
Q.—Up to the time of this crime and A.—Yes, sir.
Q.—You knew him when you saw him;
could not be mistaken?
A.—Yes, sir: I saw him a year ago when was over here. Q.—Do you know whether he was ac-uainted with you or not? A.—He wasn't until after we went to

A.—He wasn't until after we went to work here in this saloon down here. To my knowledge he wasn't.

Q.—About what day or time was it when you say you first went to work?

A.—On the 27th day of September was the first day we started to work after our arrangement with Newton.

Q.—The 27th of September or August?

A.—I mean the 27th of August. Pardon me.

Saw Chief During August. Q.-Well now, then a week or ten days prior to that time, along there, did you see the chief on the streets around?

A.—I saw him; yes sir.

A.—I seen him once in a while; yes, sir.
Q.—Two or three times a week, you think? -Something like that.

Q.—You knew, when you were talking to Newton, who he had reference to when he spoke about arranging things? A.—Yes, sir. Q.—Did Newton say that he had seen the chief?

Q.—It was all right?
A.—Yes, sir.
Q.—Did he mention the chief especially?
A.—Yes, sir.
Q.—You are sure of it?
A.—He came back into the room and said he had seen the chief and we could go to work.
Q.—He had seen him and it was all right?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—That would be on the 25th. You inderstood he had the talk along about the 16th?

A.—I didn't say anything about him. that he had seen the chief along about the 16th.

Q.—No, but you say you saw Newton about the 15th, and Newton said he could arrange this. arrange this.

A.—He said he probably could if I had people here who were not acquainted.

Q.—You talked about the matter and then on the 25th he told you he had seen the chief and arranged it?

A—Yes sir

A.—Yes, sir.
Q.—And during the same period of time you say you had seen the chief around on the streets here?
A.—Yes, sir; I saw the chief.
Q.—How?

A.—Yes, sir; I saw the chief.
Q.—How?
A.—Before that, you mean?
Q.—Yes; between the 15th and 25th.
A.—Yes, sir; I saw Sheets.
Q.—Saw him several times?
A.—Yes, sir.
Q.—Pretty nearly every time you would be out on the street?
A.—I didn't say nearly every time. I don't think he saw me. I was working Liberty park the first part of the month and he sent some officers out there and arrested Sullivan and Thompson, and I got away. I came back to the house and sent Newton down there and he came back and told me that he had it fixed up, that they would be fined and given a calaboose sentence, with orders to leave town.
Q.—Who said that?
A.—Newton. They got out the next day and left town that night—the next night. I intended to go with them and that was when Newton first made the proposition he could fix things; told me he could get it fixed up if I got a partner that wasn't known.
Q.—When was it arranged with Newton
